And you thought it was hot here

Jul, 27 2006 - 8:30 AM

DEATH VALLEY/CKNW(AM980) - Surrey runner Ferg Hawke battled a cold and searing 52 Celsius heat to finish fourth in the Badwater ultra-marathon in Death Valley.

Hawke finished the race on Tuesday, ahead of 85 other competitors - many of whom didn't cross the finish line until Wednesday.

His time was 28 hours, 45 minutes and 10 seconds. Hawke says he hung in there and just gutted it out.
